The Centre for Research Excellence in Mental Health and Substance Use in Sydney is conducting a trial of a psychological treatment for adolescents aged 12-17 years who are having difficulties coping after experiencing a traumatic event and are concerned about their alcohol or drug use.

For further information or if you are interested in participating please call:

Emma Barrett on 9385 0164

_all information provided will remain anonymous and confidential._